The Times of India Kala Ghoda Arts Festival has seen lakhs of people converge at the various venues where a host of events are taking place. The festival, which is on till February 10, has people from across the city pouring to get their fill of art, music, dance, movies and food. Adding to the fun are the various workshops that people can participate in. The art installations at Kala Ghoda have always been crowd pullers. This year too, the main Kala ghoda area, has been converted into a colourful tapestry of interesting, imaginative and out-of-the-box art works.

So while there is an installations called 'Dhanda' by Baaya Design, which is a sculptural skyline of Mumbai and meant to be a visual pun, there is also an ode to Bollywood with an installation called 'Cinemachi' by Sumeet Sanjay Patil, which has vibrant cut outs of popular past and present film stars. A huge installation that greets the eyes when you enter is the 'Kapala's Totems' by Sukant Panigrahy. This is among one of the seven totems placed through Kala Ghoda, and made entirely of waste material. Environmental issues are also people's minds. While 'Cycle Chalao City Bachao' sends out a message of the urgent need of going eco-friendly while travelling, another installations points out the the hazards of noise pollution.

And how can money not make it's presence felt in the financial capital of the country. A popular installation, which evokes smiles and giggles from the thronging crowd, is 'Corrupt Us' by Vikram Arora. Showcasing government officials saluting a hundred rupee note fluttering above them. Another installations has a car covered with coins. 'Time To Change' by 11-year-old Dev Mehta showcases a car, painted in vibrant hues as a symbol of the city that never sleeps — constantly moving, changing and racing ahead. And an installation of Mumbai's ever-dependable dabbawallas towers over the crowd.

The marriage of Charanpreet Kaur Bhatia and Karan Jaiswal was a splendid affair as this two-day wedding celebration not only had the who's who of the city coming in, but also saw celebrities from B-town like Sudhir Mishra, Satish Kaushik, Bhagyashree Sanjay Kapoor, and Padmini Kolhapure making their presence felt.

The entry of the bride and the groom was unique as they descended on the stage from a moon like prop. But, it was the gorgeous décor at the venue that became an instant hit with guests. While on the first day, the RDB band enthralled everyone by belting out their hit Punjabi numbers like Aloo chat, Aaja mahi aaja mahi and many others, Pakistani singer Arif Lohar crooned away to glory with his hit song Jugni and Idda ayinya ne.

As awareness campaigns and various anti tobacco programs took shape across the world on the World Cancer Day (February 4), Ahmedabad also showed its support towards abolishing tobacco. Leading from the front was singer/actor/director Luke Kenny along with singer Caralisa Monterio and actress Kirti Kulhari, who visited the city for a special rock concert.

The concert might have been for a serious cause, but it had all the elements for a fun evening. With music reigning the mood, the crowd danced to the rock numbers Luke and Caralisa presented during the concert.

In addition to all the fun and masti, Parthiv Patel also made a brief appearance showing his stand and support for the noble cause.

This recent fest held in Nashik was all about good music, fun and wine. Bands like Deep Forest Live, French artiste St Germain, Gaudi, and reggae stars Irie FM along with Indian bands Swarathma, Sahej Bakshi aka Dualist Inquiry entertained the crowd. Adding spice to the event were the bazaar, foot massages, tattoos and grape stomping sessions. Actor Dino Morea was present for both the days and was seen having a great time in the VIP area. Actress Amrita Puri and Lisa Haydon were also spotted. Model/actress Kanak Nanda was seen bonding with her friends; entrepreneur Yash Birla was spotted on the dance floor; and Adwait Kher also seemed to be having a great time. While designer Babita Malkani grooved to the music, designer Narendra Kumar was seen chilling out in the lounge area. It was definitely two days of unlimited fun!
